ATR VERDICT: THE BOSSES COUSIN can make a winning debut over hurdles. He returned from a 20-month absence to comfortably win his bumper at Leopardstown in December and, having proved himself on soft ground previously, he looks banker material. Hidden Future should to be in the shake-up once more, while Robbie McMahon is of interest after two comfortable victories between the flags.

ATR VERDICT: ABOU BEN showed a likeable attitude when scoring in similarly testing conditions at Navan last time (fourth has won since) and will take some stopping if in the same mood this afternoon. Tofino Bay's maiden hurdle success at Punchestown in February last year has worked out well and he warrants plenty of respect now returning, while Maggie Connolly has definite claims representing the formidable Willie Mullins/Ruby Walsh combination.

ATR VERDICT: ROCKYABOYA was slightly unlucky to bump into the progressive Lookoutnow when bidding to complete the hat-trick at Thurles last time (pair pulled 16 lengths clear of the rest) and, although a 5lb rise in the ratings looks harsh, he will be fancied to regain the winning thread. Changing Times rates the biggest threat after his gritty C&D success last month, while Szabo's Destiny certainly isn't out of it either.

ATR VERDICT: MARK ME UP stepped up on a couple of solid placed efforts when scoring comfortably over 2m at Down Royal on Wednesday and, with this extra half-a-mile unlikely to cause any problems, he gets the vote to defy a 6lb penalty. Norah Starr has crept into the frame on her last couple of appearances and should figure prominently once more, while Clashnabrook and Whitehead Lad make up the shortlist.

Top Tip: MARK ME UP

ATR VERDICT: Potentially a high-class bumper and STARKIE edges the vote. He travelled like a classy individual when fifth on his racecourse debut here in December and ought to go very close if stepping forward from that. Peking To Paris is sure to have plenty of supporters representing the trainer/jockey combination who won this race 12 months ago, while point-to-point scorer Deadliest Catch makes plenty of appeal on his debut under Rules.

ATR VERDICT: RATHLIN had been threatening to run riot over fences for some time so his 17-length demolition job over C&D last month came as little surprise. Mouse Morris' charge enjoyed a soft lead that day but once he turned the screw his rivals were unable to live with him. A wind operation, combined with the fitting of a tongue-tie, appears to have really worked the oracle and a second success over fences looks in the offing. Banjaxed Girl has claims if reproducing her best hurdles form in this sphere and hasn't been with her current trainer for long. Dropped in trip, Action Master completes the shortlist.

ATR VERDICT: The handicapper may have caught up with Luke's Benefit, who completed a double at Naas last month but is now 17lb higher than for the first of those victories and finished well-held at Leopardstown last time. Preference is for LEAD KINDLY LIGHT, who improved upon some fair form in beginners' events when sluicing up on his handicap bow at Naas. It is worth chancing he can defy a 13lb rise in the ratings to complete a double. Sensational Sema, Fourth Class and Yeoman (behind the selection latest) complete the shortlist.

Top Tip: LEAD KINDLY LIGHT

Watch out for: YEOMAN
