ATR VERDICT: I'M ALL YOU NEED bounced back to form with a credible hurdles third at Ballinrobe and is worth monitoring closely in the betting now tackling fences for the first time. Fellow chase debutant Well Tuned is more exposed over timber, but is rated 123 in that sphere and has an obvious chance if running to a similar level. Point winner Oscar Day makes some appeal on her Punchestown third in April and is considered despite slight reservations over the suitability of this shorter trip.

Top Tip: I'M ALL YOU NEED
Watch out for: OSCAR DAY

ATR VERDICT: VALOURS MINION has been raised 5lb for scoring over 2m1f at Ballinrobe but is expected to step up on that effort and complete a double. Beckwith Star is entitled to strip fitter for his comeback run over hurdles at Punchestown and makes some appeal based on his short-head second in a competitive chase at Cork last October. Tisamystery is sliding down the weights and may also pop up at some point soon.

Top Tip: VALOURS MINION

ATR VERDICT: LAST ENCOUNTER again attracted support when fifth over 2m at Down Royal and although he was soundly beaten at the line and ultimately outpaced, improvement could be in the pipeline now he's raised to this longer distance for the return to hurdles. My Matador hinted the step up to this trip would suit when second at Clonmel two starts back and is nominated as the main danger, although the consistent Jesmond Lodge, thwarted by a neck over 2m at Roscommon latest, should also give a good account.

Top Tip: LAST ENCOUNTER

ATR VERDICT: BALINABOOLA PRINCE bounced back to form with a half-length second over 2m5f at Tramore last month and is entitled to go one better now granted this stiffer test. Grangeclare Rosa was badly outpaced over 2m at Listowel and is potential improver on her return, while it would come as no surprise to see first-time blinkers sharpen up Pros 'n' Cons on the back of her 2m4f Ballinrobe sixth.

ATR VERDICT: TEMPO MAC is turned out under a penalty after last week's Clonmel success and he scored with enough in hand that day to suggest he will remain competitive. Waver, a triple winner on the level, is fitted with a tongue-tie as he bids to improve on his disappointing latest hurdles effort, and the main danger may be recent Limerick second Who's Cross, despite his subsequent 4lb rise.

Top Tip: TEMPO MAC

Watch out for: WHO'S CROSS

ATR VERDICT: RED CASTLE took a clear forward step when second over 2m at Tramore and it could be that this step up in trip unlocks more improvement as he bids to defy a 4lb rise. Slygufftou runs off the same mark as when third over 2m4f at Clonmel last time and can battle it out with Pace And Passion, who went close off 2lb lower at Down Royal two starts ago, for the silver medal.

ATR VERDICT: MARVELOUS JAMES offered a little more when fourth over 2m at Limerick and will finish on the premises if building on that effort. The main danger may be Show And Go, who posted his best effort yet when fourth at Clonmel last time and should remain competitive following a 3lb rise. Keep Swinging needs to leave behind his recent form to figure but is entitled to improve for this drop in class.

Theatre Mole has won between the flags and is worth a market check on her first start under Rules, while Pearl Diamond could figure if leaving behind a moderate Kilbeggan showing and returning to the level of form she showed on debut at Clonmel.

Top Tip: HOWAYADOING

Watch out for: PEARL DIAMOND
