ATR VERDICT: Strong claims can be made for a few of these but JACOBAN is afforded one last chance on the drop back to a mile. The High Chaparral colt ran a blinder to finish fourth in the Racing Post Trophy on just his second start as a juvenile, and the fitting of a tongue-tie might revitalise him. Chenega Bay is feared most despite rattling the crossbar for the third successive time at Fairyhouse, but Seaforth and Mutadhamen also have live chances after decent efforts.

Top Tip: JACOBAN

Watch out for: CHENEGA BAY

ATR VERDICT: SPINAMISS outperformed market expectations when running a cracker to fill the runner-up spot at the Curragh on her introduction. She got the better of Vitello on that occasion, and that one has subsequently beaten Flirt at Fairyhouse. That collateral form heightens the appeal of Paul Deegan's youngster, but Flirt is improving and shouldn't be dismissed out of hand. Orangey Red makes her debut for leading connections, and both Optimism And Hope and Hot To The Touch deserve market inspection.

ATR VERDICT: TOM DOOLEY had Chillie Billie and Dove Mountain in arrears when running on to take the minor honours at Fairyhouse last week and another bold bid is expected from a 2lb higher mark. Dove Mountain is entitled to improve for that reappearance and first run for Gordon Elliott and might get closer this time. Kodiac's Back was disappointing when finishing a well-held beaten favourite at Roscommon but deserves more than a cursory glance, along with the returning Botanical Lady.

ATR VERDICT: LAKE GEORGE is turned out quickly under his 5lb penalty for his ready Sligo success four days ago and, as a previous course and distance winner, he is fancied to follow up that victory in a race where the majority of his rivals have something to prove. Miss Temple caught the eye when a close fourth at Fairyhouse and she is feared most stepping up from six furlongs. Forebear and Funny How make some each-way appeal.

ATR VERDICT: Duchessofflorence sets the standard but has had plenty of chances and may prove vulnerable to some of the less exposed types. Preference is for LOVED, who was pitched into Group Three company on her debut but didn't appear to handle the testing conditions when weakening into sixth. A full-sister to Battle Of Marengo, the sounder surface here will suit and she still holds an entry in the Irish Oaks so this is a big day for her. Marie Celeste is one to consider, while any support for Faseeha should be taken seriously.

ATR VERDICT: HOUSE LIMIT has been knocking hard on the door of late, beaten a short neck into third two starts ago before running a creditable fourth at Fairyhouse. A first win on the level for over two years is surely in the offing, and he won't find many better opportunities than this to get his head back in front. The lightly-raced Meadowlands is feared most, while Crown Pleasure enters calculations for each-way purposes.

Long Handicap: Hallbeck 8 - 2

ATR VERDICT: BENKEI won with plenty to spare at Navan, scampering clear under hands and heels, and the step up to this trip is expected to suit. A 10lb rise demands more of Harry Rogers' charge, but he was beaten just over a length by Clondaw Warrior (Ascot Stakes winner off 89 on Tuesday) last September, so a mark of 74 should be within his reach. Hazariban ought to be thereabouts and is respected, while Hurricane Ridge and Plinth can also play a part.

Top Tip: BENKEI
