ATR VERDICT: INDIEN ROUGE is expected to take all the beating representing leading connections. Won last year by Willie Mullins, Ruby Walsh and Avant Tout, the son of Al Namix finished a close-up second on his debut at Pau 12 months ago and definitely falls under the 'could be anything' bracket on his first start for the County Carlow-based handler. Delegate brings a superior level of experience to the table and isn't without a chance, while Thumb Stone Blues is another interesting contender.

Top Tip: INDIEN ROUGE

ATR VERDICT: LAKE FIELD was in the process of winning when he came to grief at the final flight at Limerick over Christmas and although he's gone up 4lb for falling, the sole C&D winner in the field is expected to bounce back if that mishap hasn't left its mark. He travelled smoothly into contention that day and led two out, befitting of a horse some way ahead of his mark. Sizing Silver represents powerful connections and cannot go unconsidered on the back of a creditable effort at Clonmel, while Westerner Point is also taken seriously.

ATR VERDICT: DE PLOTTING SHED disappointed favourite backers when sent across the Irish Sea for an Ascot bumper last month, but the Fairyhouse winner bumped into some smart types in that Listed contest and sets a high standard on his hurdling debut. The son of Beneficial looked an above-average type when winning a bumper by five and a half lengths here in November and is likely to have been well prepared for this assignment in the schooling ring at home. Golan Lodge rates the main danger having run second at Fairyhouse last month, but Burgas is another that warrants plenty of respect given his connections.

ATR VERDICT: This is not a race to get carried away with but MR JAGGERS put in a much-improved effort at Clonmel last time and a 2lb rise in the ratings is unlikely to stop him if repeating that effort. Boxing Along was a solid second over C&D last month and he looks to have a big chance. Teacher's Pet has shown some promise in maiden hurdles and starts life in handicaps from a very workable mark.

ATR VERDICT: Ballycasey is likely to be a popular selection due to his connections but he is far from the most reliable performer and, while he looks sure to be thereabouts, it may be best to take him on. ROI DU MEE has taken this race twice in the last three years and he looks to be the solid selection in this year's renewal. Rubi Light and Turban cannot be discounted either, although He'llberemembered looks up against it.

ATR VERDICT: SOME DRAMA has been much improved since going over fences and was arguably in the process of running a career best when parting with his jockey at the last two starts ago. He has since run well enough when fourth at Down Royal on Boxing Day and looks to hold leading claims in this contest. Baroque Style won well at Navan in November and is bred to be a chaser, being by Old Vic and out of a Bob Back mare. Definite Soldier looks to be the pick of the rest.

ATR VERDICT: A very tight contest and the marginal preference goes to ADAMS WOOD, who looks potentially well handicapped off a mark of 95. He has not been seen since November 2014 but has gone well fresh in the past. Finea was set some stiff tasks earlier in the season, running in two Grade 2s on consecutive days, but he has dropped to an appealing rating. Others worthy of consideration are Sacre Malta and Whats On The Menu.

Top Tip: ADAMS WOOD

Watch out for: FINEA
