ATR VERDICT: Sir Plato is a confirmed front runner who is going the right way having won four of his last five outings over a mile. His only defeat came at this trip at Beverley and his presence in the race will be of assistance to EYNHALLOW. The son of Nathaniel won on his handicap debut at Goodwood before returning to the same track and being inconvenienced by the lack of pace on offer. The stiff finish here will play to his strengths and he can continue to progress through the handicap ranks. Okool disappointed when looking a non-stayer at Chester but does look to be fairly treated on the best of his maiden form and the Owen Burrows yard are in fine form with their three-year-old handicappers having had a double at the weekend.

Top Tip: EYNHALLOW
Watch out for: SIR PLATO
