ATR VERDICT: Black Ivory may be the best handicapped of these but there has to be a concern about the trip. The six-year-old did finish second over 3m two starts ago but his performance last time out suggested that 2m4f on very soft ground may be his ideal conditions. No Hassle Hoff finished behind Sam Spinner at Haydock last time out but he was well beaten by that rival and those that finished around him have been disappointing subsequently. With all that in mind, the nod goes to THE ORGANIST, who maintained her unbeaten record over 3m when winning at Newbury last month. That form has been boosted with the fourth winning since and this mare has only been raised 6lb in the ratings. Templeross has been disappointing so far this season but he is well handicapped and represents a yard in top form at the moment.

Top Tip: THE ORGANIST (3)

Watch out for: TEMPLEROSS (8)
