ATR VERDICT: Rons Dream has finished second on her last three occasions and patience is starting to wear thin with the eight-year-old, though she does look likely to relish going up in trip once more and sets the standard of the British-trained contenders. Ready preference, however, is for ELUSIVE THEATRE, who was fifth in a hot handicap hurdle at Cheltenham in December before winning at Ayr six weeks ago. She is only small but jumped hurdles well and could have too much for this opposition now back over fences. Express time can win the battle for third.

Top Tip: ELUSIVE THEATRE (1)

Watch out for: RONS DREAM (3)
