ATR VERDICT: OLD PERSIAN did not appear to relish the very soft ground when a beaten favourite at Pontefract last October. The son of Dubawi is better judged on his defeat of Gronkowski in a novice race over 1m here the time before and his pedigree suggests that he should improve as a three-year-old. His stablemate Bow Street is another who makes plenty of appeal, having shown a high level of form in three quick starts late last year. He was only beaten a neck by an exciting prospect here in October and it would be no surprise to see him make up into a black-type performer later in the season. Beautiful Memory and Casey Jones also merit places on the shortlist, while Dukhan is another who cannot be discounted.

Top Tip: OLD PERSIAN (1)

Watch out for: BOW STREET (3)
