ATR VERDICT: This race looks sure to go the way of a high-class performer given the strength of form on offer and the pedigrees of the unraced participants. ARGENTELLO was less than a length behind an experienced rival when finishing second on his debut at Doncaster last month and he travelled like a very good horse on that occasion. He will clearly improve for the run and gets weight from his main rivals. Elector and Nordic Lights both won well on their debuts but will need to improve to defy their penalties, although they are entitled to do just that. Loveisili, who is from the family of Yesterday and Quarter Moon, cost 650,000gns as a yearling and he is bred on the Dansili/Sadler's Wells nick that has already produced multiple high-class performers including Flintshire and The Fugue. Caliburn and Raa Atoll are other expensive purchases who merit a market inspection this afternoon.

Top Tip: ARGENTELLO (3)

Watch out for: ELECTOR (1)
