ATR VERDICT: Tip Two Win was an impressive second at lofty odds in the 2,000 Guineas at Newmarket last month and would probably be a relatively short price here if trained by a more powerful stable, while Irish 2,000 Guineas winner Romanised represents a handler who hasn't had too many winners in 2018 but deserves respect on that form all the same. U S Navy Flag was ridden prominently that day and failed to hold on, with similar tactics likely to be utilised here by the Ballydoyle team.

Wootton didn't look an easy ride in France last time, while Gabr looks held on form behind WITHOUT PAROLE based on their Sandown exertions 26 days ago. The latter remains unbeaten and wasn't suited by the rain-sodden ground on that day, but connections reported that he was behind on his work before that outing and this sort of test on quick ground is likely to suit the son of Frankel much better.

Top Tip: WITHOUT PAROLE (9)

Watch out for: GABR (2)
