ATR VERDICT: RIGHTWAY made a most encouraging return from his summer holiday to reach the frame at Wolverhampton, and the form has been boosted by the runner-up going one better subsequently. Tony Carroll's gelding is preferred to his stablemate Altaira, who was in fine fettle prior to his latest Brighton defeat, although he does have something to prove on the all-weather. Ertidaad hasn't been too far away at Chelmsford the last twice, and Luxford is interesting on her first appearance for Gary Moore.

ATR VERDICT: LADY ADELAIDE went into plenty of notebooks when just touched off by a filly with previous experience on her Newbury introduction and the daughter of Australia can head into winter quarters on a high, with the promise of plenty to come in 2019. Gracefully Done is by the same sire and also shaped with a great deal of promise on her debut, taking fourth at Doncaster. Nottingham third Scentasia must be respected, and there is a host of interesting newcomers, not least Tauteke and Almahha.

ATR VERDICT: ARCTIC OCEAN derived considerable benefit from her initial experience at Newmarket because she stepped forward to go close at Chelmsford, and the rise from 7f should see Sir Michael Stoute's Camelot filly in an even better light. Filles De Fleur struggled at HQ but is more effective on the all-weather if her debut second here is anything to go by. Navadir and Abanica have shown enough to warrant a mention, with 350,000gns yearling Kimblewick the most appealing of the unraced brigade.

ATR VERDICT: FRISELLA is something of a Juddmonte blueblood and showed plenty of natural talent when finding only one too strong on her Haydock debut. She has been given time to recover and strengthen since that July outing and is fancied to go one better. Sonja Henie, Lucky Turn and Haze also made bright beginnings to their careers but perhaps the ones to give John Gosden's youngster most to think about are 125,000gns Sea The Stars filly Nantucket and Designated, who is from a good Cheveley Park family.

ATR VERDICT: Glorious Charmer scored with plenty up his sleeve at Yarmouth, finishing off his race really well, so the extra furlong shouldn't be a problem. A 5lb rise isn't unduly harsh either but he is still passed over in favour of INTRICATE, who was disappointing in a C&D novice contest but her first two runs were better and an initial mark of 72 makes her very appealing, with the application of blinkers a source of potential improvement. Spell is another nursery newcomer with claims, and Tin Hat is consistent for all that the handicapper just about has his measure.

ATR VERDICT: BUSBY proved that his breakthrough Chelmsford success was no fluke when following up at this circuit, and a further 5lb hike means the hat-trick is definitely on. After finding Listed company too hot to handle, Zain Hana was beaten only a length off this figure over C&D and has scope for further improvement. Excellent George has held his form generally well this year and won't be far away, nor will Chookie Dunedin if he takes to the Polytrack. Merlin merits a market check on his first start in a visor.

ATR VERDICT: Part Exchange is unexposed and warrants respect on her first outing since finishing runner-up in a novice event at Wolverhampton in July, while Noble Expression was narrowly denied on his first start after wind surgery last month and should remain competitive off 1lb higher. However, CASPAR THE CUB arrives on the back of two comfortable course victories and a further 5lb rise might not be enough to stop him completing the hat-trick.

ATR VERDICT: LIFE KNOWLEDGE ran out a comfortable winner over the extended 1m4f at Newcastle last time and he looks capable of following up off 4lb higher. Rocksette stayed on powerfully to score over 1m2f at Brighton latest and she should be suited by stepping back up in distance, while Arlecchino's Arc, who has been running well in defeat recently, and Harry Whittington's handicap debutant Perfect Myth complete the shortlist.
