Long Handicap: Joules 7 - 8

ATR VERDICT: POLLY DOUGLAS thrived when dropped to this distance when a winner over course and distance last time. He makes plenty of appeal off a 5lb higher mark and should fight out the finish with fellow recent track and trip scorer Amanaat, who will benefit from Ben Coen's valuable claim. Nigg Bay is just 1lb higher than his last winning mark, while Stanhope makes plenty of appeal on his first start for Damian English.

ATR VERDICT: Mick Halford holds a strong hand here with a trio of challengers to consider including Kasriyann and Total Recharge. However, preference is for their stablemate LIBRAS POWER, who is a half-sister to a US Grade 3 winner in Cattahoochee War and can build on her debut run over track and trip last month. Joseph O'Brien's Numerian is respected and has two tries over the course and distance in his favour, with Ger Lyons' newcomer Instant Return another to note.

ATR VERDICT: LA NOVIA thrived over track and trip last time and, despite receiving a 7lb rise from the assessor, Mick Halford's filly is entitled to play a leading role again. Tyrconnell was successful over six furlongs here when last seen and is respected, but he had to settle for minor honours on his earlier tries at this distance and may have to once more. Hey Pretty was only a short-head away from success over course and distance two weeks ago and must be seen as a huge threat off the same rating.

ATR VERDICT: PATRICK JOSEPH has the chance to go one better than his recent track and trip second off the same rating and has the assistance of leading apprentice Oisin Orr. Kody Ridge is tongue-tied on his first start for John McConnell and is respected on the best of his UK form having finished second at Beverley when last seen. Jim Bolger's Latchet went close here latest, while last-start course and distance winner Tomwontlisten is another who must be taken very seriously.

ATR VERDICT: Theobald got the better of KING'S FIELD when they met over C&D a month ago but the latter is taken to reverse that form with Donnacha O'Brien back in the plate. He was aboard the gelding for his two wins in October. Captain Joy has been a terrific servant to connections over the years and can run his usual honest race off top weight, while Equitant is respected going for the four-timer, but will find this a tougher assignment than his previous two runs at the course.

ATR VERDICT: DAWN TROUPER has improved since being stepped up in trip to 1m4f and went close on his handicap debut when beaten three-parts of a length by Too Precious here last Friday. Jim Bolger's gelding steps up another half-mile in distance which could feasibly unlock another gear. St Lawrence Gap seemed to benefit from blinkers when last seen here over 1m4f and can go close back at 2m, while Days Without End also brings solid form to the table.

ATR VERDICT: Wajaaha sets the standard on form achieved so far in his career having failed to finish out of the frame on all of his five starts to date. That said, he hasn't looked particularly straightforward and could prove vulnerable once again for win purposes. Preference, therefore, goes to AZEZATI on her first start for Andy Oliver. She showed promise in two outings for David Simcock as a juvenile and could improve for a step up from 7f. Chateau La Fleur was disappointing when last seen at Cork but could benefit from first-time blinkers.

ATR VERDICT: PARK ROW has improved considerably since switching to the all-weather here on his last four starts, landing two of them and not disgracing himself on his other appearances, and he can return to winning form in a low key affair. Uncle Henry was fourth on his latest outing at the track in October and now debuts for Denis Cullen, while Jon Ess and Pedisnap complete the shortlist.
